Member Institution Benefits, Academic Year 2023-2024

MEMBER INSTITUTIONS OF THE AMERICAN ACADEMY IN ROME

Since 1894, the American Academy in Rome has offered artists and scholars the unparalleled opportunity of time and space to live and work in a supportive community in Rome. Today we award approximately 30 Rome Prize Fellowships following a national competition. Joining the Rome Prize Fellows is a small number of senior artists and scholars, invited by the Academy Director to be Residents. The Academy's community also includes a number of Affiliated Fellows: artists and scholars who have been selected and are supported by organizations in cooperation with the Academy, including Member Institutions. Additionally the Academy hosts Visiting Artists and Scholars who, by application, rent living and work space at the Academy for a short period of time.

The Academy welcomes Member Institutions from across the United States and countries around the world, including Italy, Australia, and more. Membership enables institutions to award an Affiliated Fellowship at the Academy, for an additional fee and at mutually-agreed-upon dates. Other benefits, such as invitations to Academy programs, extend opportunities to faculty members, staff, and graduate students.

Additional Benefits:

AFFILIATED FELLOWSHIPS

For an extra fee, Member Institutions may name an Affiliated Fellow to be in residence at the Academy for periods of four, eight, or twelve weeks. The Affiliated Fellow receives the following:

- Housing (a single room with private bath)
- The right to rent a studio, subject to availability
- Meals on the same plan as those provided to Rome Prize Fellows and Residents, currently lunch and dinner five days a week, except holidays
- Access to Academy scholarly resources: Library, Photographic Archive, Norton Van Buren Seminar Room, and Archaeology Study Collection
- Access to Academy public programming such as concerts, conferences, exhibitions, lectures, readings, and symposia.

Affiliated Fellowship Deadlines

The deadline for submitting intent to send an Affiliated Fellow for the 2023-2024 academic year is April 30, 2023.
